India Addendum

(last updated 18 October 2021)

This addendum to the Personal Data Protection Policy applies to you if your Personal Data is being collected, used, disclosed or processed by us in India. The terms set out in this India Addendum are in addition to the terms set out in the Personal Data Protection Policy and form an integral part of the Personal Data Protection Policy. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the Personal Data Protection Policy and the terms of this India Addendum, this India Addendum shall govern and prevail.

1. Personal Data

1.1 For the purposes of this India Addendum, references to “Personal Data” in the Personal Data Protection Policy and this India Addendum shall be read to include “Sensitive Personal Data”.

1.2 The Personal Data which we may collect about you are the following:

Personal identifiers:

- (a) Name;
- (b) Birthdate;
- (c) Passwords;
- (d) Email address; and
- (e) Biometric information.

Banking information:

- (a) Bank account information; and
- (b) Other financial information such as credit information and claims information.

Background verification information:

- (a) Criminal activities records, court records, police records;
- (b) Declarations regarding financial standing; and
- (c) Employment, education history and references through CV.

Health related information:

- (a) Pre-employment medical check report (collected from our vendor clinic); and
- (b) Medical records and history.

1.3 The legal basis for processing your Personal Data are the following:

- (a) Consent;
- (b) Except in the case of Sensitive Personal Data, where processing is necessary for:
 - (i) recruitment or termination of employment;
 - (ii) provision of any service to, or benefit sought by an employee;
 - (iii) verifying attendance of an employee; or

- (iv) any other activity relating to the assessment of the performance of an employee; and
- (c) Under any law for the time being in force made by the Parliament or any State Legislature, or for compliance with any order or judgment of any court or tribunal in India.

Please note that we may process your Personal Data for more than one lawful ground depending on the specific purpose for which we are using your Personal Data.

2. Transfer of Personal Data

- 2.1 You consent to us transferring all or any of your Personal Data to the parties specified in this Personal Data Protection Policy (whether located in India or overseas) for the purposes specified in this Personal Data Protection Policy (where applicable). In case of any cross-border transfer of your Personal Data (including Sensitive Personal Data), we will ensure compliance with applicable laws in India in relation to such transfer.
- 2.2 You acknowledge that some countries to which we may transfer your Personal Data may not have data protection laws which are as stringent as the data protection laws of India. You acknowledge and agree that it is adequate that when we transfer your Personal Data to any other entity overseas, we will put in place contractual obligations on the transferee which will oblige the transferee to adhere to the same levels of data protection which are adopted by us.

3. Retention of Personal Data

- 3.1 We will retain your Personal Data for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes for which we have collected it. We may retain your Personal Data for a longer period by obtaining your explicit consent or for complying with a legal obligation.

4. Protection of Personal Data

- 4.1 The security of your Personal Data is important to us. We have adopted reasonable security practices and procedures to safeguard the Personal Data under our control against unauthorised access, disclosures and other similar risks. Access to your Personal Data is restricted to those parties who need to know such Personal Data in relation to the purposes specified in this Personal Data Protection Policy.
- 4.2 Whilst we will endeavour to take all reasonable and appropriate steps to keep secure any Personal Data under our control, you acknowledge and agree that we cannot provide any absolute assurance regarding the security of your Personal Data.

5. Your rights

Subject to certain conditions, you have the following rights in relation to your Personal Data:

- 5.1 Access and Confirmation: You have the right to obtain the following:

- (a) confirmation whether we are processing or have processed your Personal Data;
- (b) access to the Personal Data provided by you, or any summary thereof; and
- (c) a brief summary of processing activities undertaken with respect to your Personal Data. In this regard, you have the right to access in one place the identities of the entities with whom your Personal Data has been shared, along with the categories of Personal Data shared with them.

- 5.2 Correction and Erasure: You have the right to request for:

- (a) the correction of inaccurate or misleading Personal Data;
- (b) the completion of incomplete Personal Data;
- (c) the updating of Personal Data that is out-of-date; and
- (d) the erasure of Personal Data which is no longer necessary for the purpose for which it was processed.

In case your request under this Clause 5.2 is rejected, we will provide you adequate justification in writing for rejecting the application. If you do not agree with our decision, you have the right to require us to take reasonable steps to indicate, alongside your Personal Data, that the same is disputed by you. In case your request under this Clause 5.2 is accepted, we will also take necessary steps to notify all relevant entities or individuals to whom such Personal Data may have been disclosed regarding the relevant correction, completion, update or erasure, particularly where such action may have an impact on your rights and interests or on decisions made regarding you.

5.3 Data portability: Where the processing of Personal Data has been carried out through automated means, you have the right to receive the following in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format:

- (a) the Personal Data provided by you;
- (b) the data which has been generated in the course of your employment; or
- (c) the data which forms part of your profile or which we have otherwise obtained.

You can also request for your Personal Data transferred to any other entity in the same format.

You will not be entitled to exercise your rights under this Clause 5.3 if (a) the processing of your Personal Data is necessary for functions of a governmental authority or in compliance of law or order of a court or, (b) if complying with your request would reveal a trade secret of another entity or person or would not be technically feasible.

5.4 General Conditions: For exercising any right under this Clause 5, other than Clause 5.5 below, you are required to make a request in writing to us either directly or through a consent manager with the necessary information as regards your identity. We will acknowledge the receipt of such request and communicate our response within such period as specified by provisions of applicable law. If we refuse your request, we will provide our reasons for the same in writing. Please note that we are not obliged to comply with your request under this Clause, where such compliance will harm the legal rights of another person. For complying with your request for exercising any right under this Clause 5, other than Clause 5.5 below, we may charge such fee as specified by provisions of applicable law, other than for requests relating to Clauses 5.1(a) and 5.1(b) and Clause 5.2, which will be free of charge.

5.5 Restrict or prevent continuing disclosure: By an order of a competent adjudicating officer based on an application made in compliance with the provisions of law, you can request us to restrict or prevent the continuing disclosure of your Personal Data where such disclosure:

- (a) has served the purpose for which it was collected or is no longer necessary for the purpose;
- (b) was made with your consent and you have withdrawn such consent; or
- (c) was made contrary to the provisions of any law.

6. Contacting Us – Exercising Your Rights

- 6.1 In order to exercise the rights above and those granted to you in the main Personal Data Protection Policy, please contact the Data Protection Officer at the contact details set out below. The same shall be considered in accordance with the procedures and timelines mentioned under applicable laws of India.
- 6.2 If you withdraw your consent to any or all use of your Personal Data, depending on the nature of your request, GIC may not be in a position to administer any contractual relationship in place. Depending on the situation, this may also result in the termination of your employment, agreement and/or any other forms of arrangement with GIC. GIC's legal rights and remedies in such event are expressly reserved. You may withdraw your consent by contacting the Personal Data team at LCD_PersonalData@gic.com.sg.

7. Data Protection Officer

- 7.1 We have appointed a Data Protection Officer to address any concerns or grievances that you may have regarding any use of your Personal Data. If you have any such grievances, please write to our Data Protection Officer and the Personal Data team at: LCD_PersonalData@gic.com.sg.
- 7.2 You also have the right to file a complaint with the relevant data protection authority in accordance with the provisions of applicable law.

1.2 In accordance with the Personal Information Protection Act (the "PIPA"), we may use or provide personal information within the scope reasonably related to the initial purpose of the collection, after duly considering whether disadvantages have been caused to data subjects and whether necessary security measures such as encryption etc. have been implemented. We will determine with due care whether to use or provide the personal information considering general circumstances, including relevant laws and regulations such as the PIPA, purpose of use or provision of the personal information, how the personal information will be used or provided, types of personal information to be used or provided, matters to which data subjects have provided consent or which were notified or informed to data subjects, impact on data subjects upon the use or provision of the personal information, and measures taken to protect the personal information. Specific considerations are as follows:

- Whether the additional use/provision is related to the initial purpose of the collection;
- Whether the additional use/provision is foreseeable in light of the circumstances under which personal information was collected and practices regarding processing;
- Whether the additional use/provision unfairly infringe on the interests of the data subject; and
- Whether the necessary security measures such as pseudonymization or encryption were taken.

2. Processing, Retention and Destruction of Personal Data

2.1 GIC will immediately destroy Personal Data when the purposes of processing such Personal Data are accomplished/ completed, in accordance with GIC's record retention policy and schedules, unless the applicable laws and regulations require GIC to preserve such Personal Data.

3. Procedures and Methods of Destroying Personal Data

- 3.1 GIC will select Personal Data for which the retention period has expired and then destroy such Personal Data in accordance with GIC's internal policies.
- 3.2 When GIC destroys Personal Data, it will implement measures to ensure, to the best of its ability, that the information is not restored or regenerated.
- 3.3 If GIC has to retain Personal Data instead of destroying it, GIC will store and manage such Personal Data or such Personal Data file separately from other Personal Data.
- 3.4 If the Personal Data that needs to be destroyed is in the form of electronic file, GIC will delete such information and such information will not be restored or regenerated unless required by applicable law or regulation. Any other document, printout, letter and other recorded media will be destroyed by incinerating or shredding them into pieces.

6. Protection of Personal Data

- 6.1 The security of your Personal Data is important to us. In accordance with privacy laws, we have adopted reasonable security practices and procedures to safeguard the Personal Data under our control against unauthorised access, disclosures and other similar risks. Access to your Personal Data is restricted to those parties who need to know such Personal Data in relation to the purposes specified in this Personal Data Protection Policy.
- 6.2 While we will endeavour to take all reasonable and appropriate steps to keep secure any Personal Data under our control, you acknowledge and agree that we cannot provide any absolute guarantees regarding the security of your Personal Data.

7. Deletion of Personal Data: Suspension of Processing of Personal Data

- 7.1 In addition to the rights granted under the main Personal Data Protection Policy, if you would like to request the deletion of your Personal Data or the suspension of the processing of your Personal Data or would like to contact us with complaints or to seek relief regarding your Personal Data (subject to our rights at law), please contact GIC as follows:

Department : Legal and Compliance

Email: GrpLCD_PersonalData@gic.com.sg

Number: +65 6889 8888

- 7.2 In any of the following cases, GIC may refuse the request for suspension of processing of Personal Data made by an individual:
- (a) if there is a special provision in law or if denying the request is necessary to comply with legal obligations;
 - (b) if such an act is likely to inflict damages upon another person's life or body or unfairly infringe upon another person's property and other rights; or
 - (c) if performing the contract becomes difficult (i.e. unable to provide the agreed services) unless the Personal Data is processed, and the individuals have not expressed a clear intention to terminate such contract.

UK Addendum

This addendum to the Personal Data Protection Policy applies to you if your Personal Data is being collected, used, disclosed or processed by us in the UK. The information set out in this UK Addendum relates solely to UK related processing of Personal Data, and in the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the Personal Data Protection Policy and the terms of this UK Addendum, this UK Addendum shall govern and prevail.

This UK Addendum sets out the basis on which any of your Personal Data will be collected, stored and used by us.

1. Introduction

- 1.1 For the purposes of the General Data Protection Regulation, the data controllers of your Personal Data will be the entity you interact (or intend to interact) with. If within the United Kingdom this will be either GIC Private Limited, GIC (London) Private Limited or GIC Real Estate International Pte Ltd, London Office (collectively termed as "GIC" in this UK Addendum). If your application relates to any of our other entities outside the United Kingdom please see the relevant countries' Addendum(s) for information on how your Personal Data is processed. GIC Private Limited (where GIC's Head Office is located), may also be a joint data controller of your Personal Data in certain circumstances.

2. What Personal Data does GIC collect?

- 2.1 We collect and process your Personal Data in the following ways:

Personal Data you give us directly

- (a) when you submit forms or applications to us;
- (b) when you submit your resumes and/or CVs to us;
- (c) when you submit queries, requests, complaints or feedback to us;
- (d) when you respond to our request for additional Personal Data;
- (e) when you ask to be included in an email or other mailing list;

- (f) when you respond to our initiatives or contact us;
- (g) when you take part in events organised by GIC;
- (h) when you give your business card to any of our employees or representatives;
- (i) when you visit any of our offices and provide visitor information;
- (j) when you are captured by any of the CCTV cameras on our premises;
- (k) when you are employed or engaged by GIC;
- (l) when you register to be a part of our alumni network; and
- (m) when you submit your Personal Data to us for any other reasons.

Personal Data we collect from third parties

- (a) when you are an employee of an organisation or counterparty we do business with or otherwise engaged by such organisation or counterparty to do work that involves GIC;
- (b) when counterparties or introducers refers you to us as a potential organisation or counterparty to do business with or engaged to do work that involves GIC;
- (c) when you enter into an agreement involving any GIC owned asset with any of our managers or other representatives; and
- (d) when you take part in events organised by GIC jointly with any other third party or events organised solely by a third party; and
- (e) when a recruitment agency refers your resume to us;

Personal Data we collect automatically

We collect certain information by automated means, such as cookies and web beacons, whenever you browse our website. This could include IP address, browser type, operating system, referring URLs, information on actions taken on our websites, and dates and times of visits.

Personal Data you provide about another person

In certain circumstances, you provide us with Personal Data of other people (e.g. information of your dependents, spouse, children and/or parents). By submitting such information to us, you represent and warrant to us that they have read and understood this Personal Data Protection Policy and that you have obtained the requisite consent of such third party and/or are authorized to provide us with such Personal Data for the relevant purposes contained in this Addendum.

- 2.2 You are to ensure that all Personal Data submitted to us is complete, accurate, true and correct. Failure on your part to do so or where you decline to provide certain Personal Data we require, may result in our inability to provide you with the relevant services/ support. This is also the case where we require certain Personal Data and you decline to provide this.

3. How does GIC use Personal Data?

3.1 We generally collect, use, disclose and processes your Personal Data and Personal Data of others you pass to us for the following purposes:

(a) To provide a requested service or carry out a contract with you

- carrying out our obligations arising from any contract we enter into with you.

(b) Where we have your consent

- contacting you, including by email, SMS and telephone to provide you with direct marketing communications, including newsletters and event invites. We will only do so when we receive your consent and in line with your preferences on the communications that you have indicated. You may opt-out or retract your consent to receive such communications at any time.

(c) Where we have a legitimate interest

- contacting you, including by email, SMS, messaging services such as Whatsapp, WeChat, etc and telephone in the ordinary course of our investment and operational activities, where we have a business relationship with you. You are able to object to receiving such communications at any time;
- investigating and addressing enquiries, questions and complaints and responding to any feedback;
- managing the infrastructure and business operations of GIC and complying with internal policies and procedures, including providing you with access and/or use of websites, systems and infrastructure;
- facilitating investments, business asset transactions (which may include but is not limited to any merger, acquisition or asset sale) and business agreements with counterparties;
- matching any Personal Data we hold which relates to you for any of the purposes listed herein;
- verifying your identity and conducting background checks and due diligence;
- conducting profiling and data analytics for the purpose of (i) system and process improvements, (ii) risk/fraud management, (iii) regulatory and compliance risk management, (iv) investment insights and (v) enhancements to human resources processes;
- dispute resolution, preventing, detecting and investigating non-compliance with laws, regulations, and internal corporate policies, including fraud and financial crimes, analysing and managing other commercial risks and risks arising from GIC's operations and investment activities;
- protecting and enforcing our contractual and legal rights and obligations;
- conducting audits, reviews and analysis of our internal processes; and/or
- fulfilling GIC's legal, contractual or regulatory obligations, including complying with any applicable laws, regulations, rules, codes of practice or guidelines or to assist in law enforcement and investigations by relevant authorities;

- if you are an employee, officer or owner of an external service provider or vendor:
 - verifying and processing your personal particulars and assessing your organisation's and/or your suitability, eligibility or qualification as an external service provider or vendor for GIC as well as your organisation's and your financial status;
 - communicating with you to inform you of changes and developments to GIC's policies, terms and conditions and other administrative information;
 - managing project tenders and quotations, processing orders or managing the supply of goods and services;
 - creating and maintaining profiles of our service providers and vendors in our system database;
 - processing and payment of vendor invoices and bills; and/or
 - purposes reasonably related to any of the above.
- if you are an employee, officer or owner of our investment counterparties, including our joint venture partners, brokers, investee companies etc
 - (i) verifying and processing your personal particulars to maintain accurate records;
 - (ii) communicating with you to inform you of changes and developments to GIC's policies, terms and conditions and other administrative information;
 - (iii) creating and maintaining profiles of our investment counterparties in our system database; and/or
 - (iv) purposes reasonably related to any of the above.
- if you are a job applicant:
 - (i) verifying and processing your personal particulars, processing your application, evaluating your suitability, eligibility or qualification for employment with GIC as well as assessing your financial status;
 - (ii) communicating with you to inform you of changes and developments to GIC's policies, terms and conditions and other administrative information;
 - (iii) sending you updates and alerts related to job applications which you may have requested for;
 - (iv) conducting market research for statistical, profiling and statistical analysis for the improvement of services provided to you; and/or
 - (v) purposes reasonably related to any of the above.

3.2 Where we rely on legitimate interest as a grounds for processing, we carry out a 'balancing test' to ensure that our processing is necessary and that your fundamental rights of privacy are not outweighed by our legitimate interests, before we go ahead with such processing. We keep a record of these balancing tests. You have a right to the information contained in these balancing tests on request, and can find out more by contacting us via the details in Section 10.

- 3.3 In many cases, you will be obliged to provide your Personal Data to us, because we will need it (for example to manage our relationship with you). However, there may be some instances where the provision of your Personal Data is voluntary. We will notify you of this at the point of data collection.
- 3.4 In the event that we collect any Special Category of Personal Data about you during our employee recruitment process which relates to criminal offences information for the purposes of carrying out background checks, we collect only personal data necessary for these background checks and will only do this where you have been informed and have given your explicit consent to our collection and use of your Special Category of Personal Data.

4. Does GIC disclose Personal Data?

- 4.1 GIC will take reasonable steps to protect your Personal Data against unauthorised disclosure. Subject to the provisions of any applicable law, your Personal Data may be disclosed to the parties listed below (whether located in your local jurisdiction or overseas), for the purposes listed above (where applicable) to:
- (a) other entities within the GIC group for internal reasons, primarily for business and operational purposes in line with this policy;
 - (b) insurance companies and brokers in connection with staff insurance;
 - (c) recruitment agencies;
 - (d) agents, contractors or third party service providers who provide operational services to GIC, such as courier services, telecommunications, information technology, advertising, payment, payroll, processing, training, employment, market research, storage, archival, customer support, investigation services or other services to GIC;
 - (e) any business partner, investor, assignee or transferee (actual or prospective) to facilitate business asset transactions (which may extend to any mergers, acquisitions and debt or asset sale);
 - (f) banks, regulators advisers and deal counterparties where necessary for the purposes of carrying out KYC checks;
 - (g) local and overseas financial institutions and their respective service providers;
 - (h) our professional advisers such as our consultants, auditors and lawyers;
 - (i) business and charity partners in relation to events planning;
 - (j) with trusted third-party suppliers of information verification services where necessary for the purposes of validating the information you provide to us in the course of interacting with us or entering into a contract with us;
 - (k) relevant government regulators, government ministries, statutory boards, embassies, or authorities and/or law enforcement agencies, whether local or overseas, to comply with any directions, laws, regulations, rules, codes of practice or guidelines, or schemes issued or administered by any of them; and/or
 - (l) any other party to whom you authorise us to disclose your Personal Data.

5. How long does GIC retain Personal Data?

- 5.1 We only retain your Personal Data for as long as is necessary for us to use your information for the purposes outlined in this UK Addendum. Please be advised that we may retain some of your information after you cease to interact with GIC, for instance if this is necessary in the interest of our legitimate interest such as for business administration purposes.
- 5.2 We retain your Personal Data in accordance with our internal Record Retention Policy. When determining the relevant retention periods, the following factors may form part of the overall consideration:
- (a) our contractual obligations and rights in relation to the Personal Data involved;
 - (b) legal obligation(s) under applicable law to retain data for a certain period;
 - (c) our legitimate interest where we have carried out a balancing test;
 - (d) statute of limitations under applicable law(s);
 - (e) (potential) disputes/litigation; and / or
 - (f) guidelines issued by relevant data protection authorities.

Otherwise, we securely erase your information where we no longer require your Personal Data for the purposes collected and have no legitimate reason to retain such Personal Data.

6. How does GIC transfer Personal Data?

Your Personal Data will be stored in external servers located in Australia, Singapore, Hong Kong, Germany and Netherlands. We may also transfer your Personal Data for the purposes stated in this UK Addendum, to parties located in other countries and territories outside the UK or outside the EEA (e.g. to the GIC head office in Singapore). We will endeavour to inform you of the countries that your Personal Data will be transferred to prior to any such transfers. You may also reach out to us via the contact details in Section 10 "Contact Us" at any point of time to have the latest list of countries.

Where your Personal Data is transferred to locations outside the EEA, we ensure adequate measures are in place to offer equivalent protection as your information would receive within the EEA and in compliance with the EU General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679. We have in place EU Model Contractual Clauses as an adequate safeguard for transfers outside the EEA and between GIC entities which are governed by our intra-group transfer agreement. To find out more about how we safeguard your information in relation to transfers outside the EEA, please contact us via the contact details in Section 10 "Contact Us".

7. How does GIC keep Personal Data secure?

- 7.1 We maintain appropriate administrative, technical and physical safeguards to protect your personal data against loss, misuse, unauthorised access, disclosure, alteration or destruction.

8. Your Privacy Rights

By law, you have a number of rights (subject to certain conditions) when it comes to your Personal Data. Further information and advice about your rights can be obtained from the data protection regulator in your country. You can exercise any of these rights by contacting us via the details in Section 10 below:

Rights	What does this mean?
The right to object to processing	You have the right to object to certain types of processing, including the purpose of contacting you, including by email, SMS, messaging services such as What Sapp, WeChat, etc and telephone in the ordinary course of our investment and operational activities, where we have a business relationship with you.
The right to be informed	You have the right to be provided with clear, transparent and easily understandable information about how we use your Personal Data and your rights. This is why we're providing you with the information in this Addendum. If we intend to use your Personal Data in a way not covered by this policy, we will continue to keep you informed prior to any such use.
The right of access	You have the right to obtain access to your Personal Data (if we're processing it), and certain other information (similar to that provided in this Addendum). This is so that you are aware and can check that we are using your Personal Data in accordance with data protection law.
The right to rectification	You are entitled to have your Personal Data corrected if it is inaccurate or incomplete.
The right to erasure	This is also known as 'the right to be forgotten' and, in simple terms, enables you to request the deletion or removal of your Personal Data where there is no compelling reason for us to keep using it. This is not a general right to erasure though there are exceptions.
The right to restrict processing	You have rights to 'block' or suppress further use of your Personal Data. When processing is restricted, we can still store your Personal Data, but may not use it further. We keep lists of people who have asked for further use of their Personal Data to be 'blocked' to make sure the restriction is respected in future.
The right to data portability	You have rights to obtain and reuse your information for your own purposes across different services. For example, if you decide to switch to a new provider, this enables you to move, copy or transfer your information easily between our IT systems and theirs safely and securely, without affecting its usability.
The right to lodge a complaint	You have the right to lodge a complaint about the way we handle or process your information with your relevant national data protection regulator. See details of the UK data protection regulator via the details in Section 10.
The right to withdraw consent	If you have given your consent to anything we do with your Personal Data, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time (although if you do so, it does not mean that anything we have done with your consent up to that point is unlawful). This includes the right to withdraw consent to us using your Personal Data for marketing purposes.

- 8.1 We usually act on the requests to exercise these rights and provide information free of charge, but may charge a reasonable fee to cover our administration costs of providing the information for baseless or excessive/repeated requests or further copies of the same information. Alternatively, we may be entitled to refuse to act on the request.

Please consider your request responsibly before submitting it. We will respond to any requests as soon as we can. Generally, this will be within one month from when we receive your request but, if the request is going to take longer to deal with, we will let you know in advance.

9. Changes to this UK Addendum

- 9.1 We may periodically make changes to this UK Addendum. We will endeavour to notify you of any significant changes where we have a relationship with you and otherwise post updated versions on this page. We recommend that you revisit this page regularly for any updates.

10. Contact Us

10.1 If you:

- (a) have any questions or feedback relating to your Personal Data or our Personal Data Protection Policy (in particular this Addendum); or
- (b) would like to obtain information about or exercise any of your Rights as set out in this Personal Data Protection Policy, contact:
 - (i) Name: Lynn Hew Ooi Lyn
 - (ii) Email: lynnhew@gic.com.sg
 - (iii) Contact number: +65-68898377

If you are not satisfied with our response to a complaint you have made, or think we are not complying with data protection law, you can make a complaint to the UK data protection regulator - the Information Commissioner's Office:
